OPPOSING ARMIES.

FORTIFYING LINES NEAR MUKDEN.

Japs Work Day and Night on their Entrenchments—Russians Equally Persistent.

Headquarters of the Russian army, Huan Shan, Feb. 11.—At present the attention of the Japanese is mainly concentrated on the narrow line east and west of the railway, where also pass the two main roads to Mukden. The armies are closely in touch all along the line of Sandiapa Pachsing-tun Chenlanpu, Liu Chang Tun and Shaka. The region is entirely deserted by natives, but their stone houses and stout walls have been turned into veritable fortresses. The dwellings have been looted and are almost unclimbable even without obstructions. The approach to the south village can be swept by machine guns, hidden behind thick walls.

Notwithstanding the number of these fortresses the Japanese are not slackening their energy in entrenching but persist in working in the day time in the face of the Russian batteries and at night the loud noise of the rumbling cars gives evidence of their untiring labors.

The Russians are equally persistent and besides harassing the Japanese working parties with rifle and cannon fire, themselves free are fortifying and re-fortifying.

The Japanese continue to scatter proclamations in the Russian lines and these papers are also openly distributed by Chinese in the streets.

THE BALTIC FLEET

STILL OFF THE AFRICAN COAST.

German Colliers Refuse to Accompany the Squadron into the War Zone.

Port Louis, Mauritius, Feb. 12th.—Arrivals from Nossibe (off the coast of Madagascar) report that the Russian Second Pacific squadron was still there on Feb. 2nd, a dispute had arisen between Vice Admiral Rojestvensky and the German companies which are coaling the fleet. The admiral, who is well supplied with coal wishes the colliers to follow the fleet but they refuse to do so on account of the too close proximity of the Japanese squadron. Russian ships will not leave before February 28. They are getting little news from St. Petersburg and the crews are dispirited owing to the fall of Port Arthur.

The Japanese measures for the blockade of Vladivostok such as darkening the lighthouses and guarding the straits excite no alarm at St. Petersburg and the officials point out that the vessels which succeed evading blockaders are filling the fortress with ample stores for the possible contingency of a siege.

The elevation of the Vladivostok fortress to the first rank shows that Russians expect it will play an important role the coming summer, but no one predicts when the siege will begin.

TUE. DAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1905.

THE PROVINCIAL CAPITAL.

The good city of Calgary is all worked up over the question of provincial autonomy. Its two enterprising dailies are publishing column editorials on the subject. A mass meeting has been held and a delegation comprising seven or eight of its most influential men has been sent to Ottawa to discuss the matter with the Dominion government. It certainly looks as if the new provinces should have a good start with its chief city taking such as active interest in its organization. But a perusal of the newspaper articles the report of the mass meeting and the expression of the delegates only deal with one feature of the provincial question, and that is the location of the capital. Naturally the location of the capital is a matter of considerable interest to the place in which it is to be located, or others which might hope to secure it. It is a very proper subject for discussion and consideration at the proper time. But the proper time is after the new province has been organized; for of course the province will have the right to finally locate its capital where it pleases. This being the case it would seem that at present the exertions of the various newspapers, municipalities and representative men might best be employed securing, or attempting to secure, such financial terms as would ensure that the provincial powers when secured could and would be beneficially exercised. The question of provincial organization for the Territories is necessarily a matter of adjustment between the Dominion government and the people of the Territories acting through their various representatives as best they may. It would have been presumably possible for the good people of Calgary to put forth the claims of their city to be made the capital of the new province and still have taken an active part in urging proper and satisfactory financial terms to the province as a whole. Very unfortunately that is not the position they have seen fit to take. In all their discussions and representations so far they have paid not an atom of attention to the possible terms, and have concentrated their every effort on the subject of the capital. Not only so, but the position they have taken is such as to necessarily arouse antagonism when united effort is so supremely necessary. They have not been content to advocate the claims of Calgary. They have given that feature of the case comparatively small attention, and have bent their whole energies to an attack upon Edmonton as a possible rival for the capital. They say at great length, and repeat, that they do not ask to have the cap-

ARE THE SOLE AGENTS
IN EDMONTON FOR THEMONARCH RANGE...

There is no question as to what this Range can do or its durability, as thousands and thousands of them are in use on this continent, and so far as we have been able to learn no fault has yet been found with them.

The main body of this Range is built up of sheet steel, and all the other parts that require to be cast are malleable iron. The top is ground to a bright steel finish, and is so heavy that no matter how long or how hot you heat it, you cannot make it warp or get out of shape.

You will notice that the oven has a drop door, and the above cut illustrates the strength of this door, as any man can stand on it when it is open without straining it in the least. This will give some idea of the strength of the Stove, as all its parts are as strong as this cut of the oven door open with the salesman standing on it would convey to you.

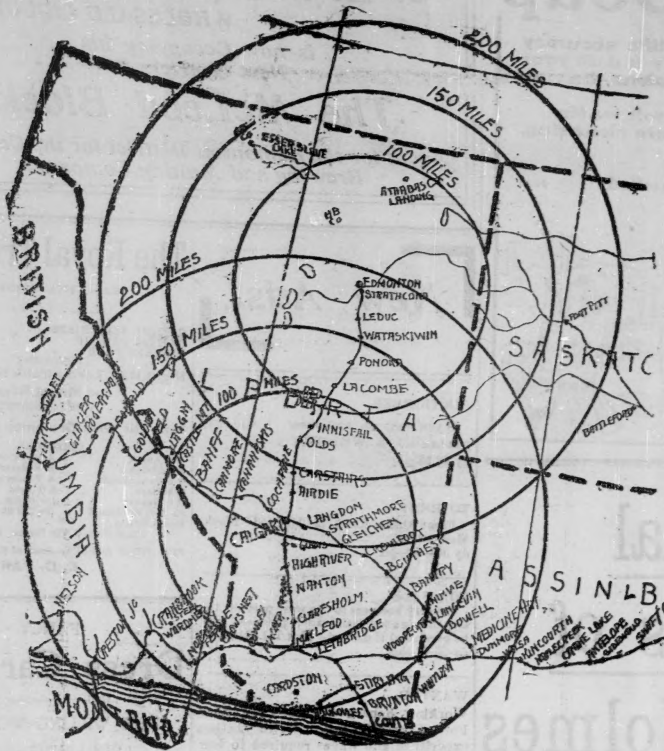

It is a wonderful baker, a very quick heater, and its water front is so constructed that it will heat water nearly twice as quick and on a much less quantity of fuel than any other Range now on the market.

The purchaser of a MONARCH RANGE insures a satisfaction that cannot be measured in dollars and cents, for at the end of ten years' use it will operate as easily and be just as good as when first started.

Remember the MONARCH when you want to purchase a Range.

EDMONTON, THE ACTUAL CENTRE AND THE LOGICAL CAPITAL.

Out of Alberta showing the central location of Edmonton as compared to Calgary in the proposed Western Province.
Published by the courtesy of the Calgary Herald.

THE PROVINCIAL CAPITAL.

ital placed provisionally at Calgary. They merely insist that it shall not be placed provisionally at Edmonton. Such an attitude, however inappropriate or ill-judged, compels Edmonton to actively enter the field, thereby producing contention between the two chief centres of population in the new province on a side issue, at a time when their united influence is most urgently needed for the common welfare, and at the same time projects into the field of Dominion politics a question which is essentially local in its nature.

Had the Calgary people been willing to accept the provisional location of the capital when it might be made, depending on the rightfulness of their claims to subsequently secure it, they would have been in a very much stronger position than they are now. Forcing the Government to consider the question as a Dominion instead of leaving it as a provincial issue by taking for granted that the provisional location of the capital means its permanent location, that government will be compelled to consider prospective rather than existing conditions, and will be in duty bound to see, whatever may be the ultimate conclusion, that the first years of the new provincial government are not wasted in a squabble about the permanent location of the capital. Provincial governments exercise a delegated authority for convenience of government in certain matters. Matters which although administered by such delegated authority are of the most vital importance to the people at large in working out the problems of progress and civilization. The people at large cannot afford to have their interests in regard to education, municipal government, civil law, road improvements, etc. made ducks and drakes of, at the very beginning of their provincial career, while the chief places in the province are concerned in a more or less interesting scrap about the location of the capital.

The position of Edmonton is that, if for geographical or other reasons it is best entitled to the capital, it wants it; and if it is not best entitled let it go to the place that is so entitled. The position of Calgary is: Calgary wants it, but if Calgary can't get it, let it go to Banff, Red Deer or anywhere else except Edmonton. This is not a good spirit in which to approach provincial organization. The people of Edmonton are no better than most other people, and when antagonized they are apt to antagonize in return. Supposing Calgary to be successful in its present effort to prevent the provisional location of the capital at Edmonton and secures its location say at Banff. When the new province is formed what likelihood is there of Edmonton interests assisting in removing it from there to Calgary. And how is the removal to be secured without the co-operation of Edmonton interests.

Amongst the many attempts to prove that Edmonton is not a proper location for the proposed capital appearing in the Calgary papers is a map published in the Herald of the 3rd. A map of Alberta and its surroundings is shown with a series of circles around Calgary and Edmonton respectively at distances of 100, 150 and 200 miles, the purpose being to show the more central location of Calgary and less central location of Edmonton. It is well understood that the present provisional district of Alberta will be added to both to the east and north when the new province is created. To the south and west lie mountains and British Columbia. It goes without saying that the boundaries of Alberta are fixed in these two directions. The Herald map shows that the hundred mile circle around Calgary takes in a section of British Columbia forty miles in width, that the 150 and 200 mile circles to the west are entirely in British Columbia, that to the south the 150 and 200 mile circles are in Montana. In the case of Edmonton the 200 mile circle just takes in the British Columbia boundary for a few miles. With that exception and that is practically not an exception, the Herald map shows Edmonton the centre of a full 200 mile radius; all of which will be included in the new province. It is true that the 200 mile circle with Edmonton as a centre does not take in the most southerly hundred miles of Alberta. But neither does it take in any part of the Peace river country. There is more territory to the north and west that must be included in the new province outside the 200 mile circle from Edmonton than there is to the south and east outside that circle. The Herald's map shows conclusively that whatever claims Calgary may have they are not based on its central location. While it shows as conclusively that if central location is to be considered the advantage is to be considered the advantage is entirely with Edmonton.

As a matter of fact Calgary claims that the capital rests entirely upon existing railway conditions. It would be a strange oversight on the part of the federal government if in locating the new capital, even provisionally, it did not consider the changed conditions while the definite arrangements made by that government in regard to railway construction must bring about within the next three or four years. The change which must occur next year with the completion of the Canadian Northern to Edmonton, whereby a territory reaching 300 miles east of Edmonton, comprising some of the finest farming land in Canada, will be made available for settlement must certainly be considered. It would be in the last degree unfair to the government's own policy of development of the Saskatchewan and Peace river valleys to permit the location of the new capital far to one side of the centre of area, and as must be in a few years, as far aside from the centre of population.

The Calgary papers claim that Alberta south of Red Deer cast a thousand more votes at the recent federal election than did the country north of that river, and that this is a reason for the location of the capital at Calgary rather than Edmonton. Admitting for the sake of argument—not as a matter of fact—that this is correct, it is hardly necessary to point out that if the population of Northern Alberta today is equal or nearly equal to that of Southern Alberta the construction of the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific railways will infallibly place the Northern population immensely in the lead. If with 100 miles of railway Northern Alberta has a population nearly equal to Southern Alberta which has, and has had for years, some five or six hundred miles, with the completion of the Wetaskiwin and Lacombe branches of the C. P. R. now under construction—100 miles—the Canadian Northern also under construction 200 miles and the G. T. P. 500 miles, judged by all reasonable rules the bulk of population must be in the North, and in the country of which Edmonton is the business centre and commercial capital and therefore most convenient for the political capital.

THE CITY COUNCIL

CONSIDER VARIOUS MATTERS.

Many Communications Read—Site for Telephone Exchange will be Purchased.

The city council met in adjourned session in the chamber on Saturday evening, all present.

The account of the R.N.W.M.P. against the city for transportation and care of a prisoner was ordered paid.

A telegram from "F. Oliver, M.P." was read saying that the prospects appeared good for Edmonton being made the temporary provincial capital. Letters in reference to this matter were also read and filed from C.M. Hays, general manager of the G.T.R., W.H. Moore, Secretary of the C.N.R. and Senator Cox.

Ald. Clark reported that good progress was being made in the preparation of the assessment plan of the city. A lengthy discussion ensued as to the method of having the actual work of assessment done, but nothing definite was done and the matter was left with the commissioners.

By-law No. 7 was read a third time and finally passed. The city solicitor and the finance committee were asked to prepare a draft agreement to be signed by the contracting parties during the visit of Pres. Morse to the city.

Tenders for printing tickets for use at the city scales were read and the tender of the Journal Printing Co. accepted.

The commissioners were asked to provide cards at the market setting forth the rules for users of the scales and market.

The public works commissioner was asked to look into tenders for a truck for moving the steam boiler used to thaw hydrants, and given power to purchase the same.

The special committee reported that they did not consider the city liable by the claim made by Mr. Page.

A lengthy discussion took place on the method of employing R. S. Kelsch consulting engineer, and the method of payment.

The applications for positions on the police force were received "but were not taken up."

The special committee were given charge of a communication from Dr. Chas. H. Stuart Wade, Esq., J.P., F.R.G.S., re an immigration booklet "being gotten out by him."

A grant of $25 was made to the Alberta Poultry and Pigeon Association show.

A grant of $100 was made to the Western Canadian Immigration Association for general advertising purposes.

It was decided to purchase the south half of lot 52 R.L. 6 and the building thereon to be used as a telephone exchange.

Ald. Clark submitted a motion which was passed to the effect that the city solicitor consider that there might be a doubt of the legality of debentures issued for the purchase of the exhibition grounds and suggesting that the association continue the exhibition with the guarantee of the council against loss.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 1 and 2, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made per the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent, may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, and have besides 80 acres sub-sistence.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers who have completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd June, 1899.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers, in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY,

Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

THIS IS TRULY THE IRON AGE.

Some Pertinent Facts in Regard to Iron and Iron Mining.—The Returns to Shareholders from Iron Properties Greater than from any Other Class of Investment, The Iron Mines of The Edmonton Coal and Iron Mining Company Promise Much to the Owners and to the Prosperity of Edmonton and Northern Alberta.

We often hear the expression "the iron age," but few of us realize what this term actually means when applied to the present era, as it often is.

In order to better grasp its meaning, and still further to appreciate to the fullest extent all that it entails, let us look back to the "Iron Age" of past history. In these early times when man was yet in his infancy so far as education and enlightenment goes, when life meant a continued struggle for the supremacy of the race, in short, when his best efforts were limited to an extent which it would be impossible for us in our day to imagine, his sole ambition stopped short at the manufacture of a few crude household utensils and weapons of war and the chase. How different it is with us today! Not only are we equipped with cooking utensils and arms of the finest description but, what is still more to the point, we have subjected this all important metal—the greatest of all nature's gifts to her children—to our almost every need. Not only do we use iron and steel which we may call its offspring, for our houses, but we use it for the actual construction of our largest buildings and it is daily becoming more popular. Again, our bridges, railroads, waterways, subways, docks, shipyards, vessels, in fact all our great modern engineering feats and efforts would fall utterly were it not for the presence and the skillful adoption and use of this wonderful metal, iron.

It would not be too much to state that were we to eliminate the use of iron in its various forms from our present day commodities, not only would the commercial world be suddenly checked but we should gradually and surely drift backward to the starting point, the various branches of trade would have ceased, commercial enterprise would be a thing of the past and civilization would be a mere matter of history. Therefore viewing things from this the only proper light, the real conclusion we must arrive at is that this twentieth century is the real iron age, the iron age of the past being merely the embryonic forecast of the world's great future. Such being the case let us turn to the material side of the case and ask ourselves the question "since iron is practically the fundamental basis of our modern civilization and since it is used to such a vast and ever-increasing extent, how is the supply to keep pace with the demand?" Clearly the field is a large one and even the great iron mines now working are not so numerous as to be able to swamp the market at their present output. There is no demand today than there ever was for a good iron mine, and this is especially applicable to certain countries and sections of countries.

Speaking of our own country—this vast Canada—with its limitless resources in the form of minerals, timber etc., here we have a young country, a growing country, full of great prospects and with a vast future. Unhindered by the fog and mists of uncertainty or incompetence she looms up before us in all her might. With outstretched arms she invites us to share her gifts and her future. Her doors are wide open and she will hold it from those who have the wisdom to know her charms. Her veins are of fine gold. Her ornaments are many and precious. Her will is of iron and as surely her will controls her actions so surely may her iron control her future. With this iron she will build her railways—the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern, albeit in themselves a vast undertaking being but an earnest of future and of still greater enterprise. She must have also bridges, ships, machinery and the thousand and one other necessities which go to build up a large nation which she will surely one day become. Think of this, to build up a nation! Grasp the stupendous meaning which this implies and ask yourself the question "How are we going to obtain all this iron due regard to locality and the probable measure of success which such location promises. Let us work work them, not indiscriminately throwing away money, but with careful consideration and with due regard to locality and the probable measure of success which such location promises. There are those who would say that the average percentage of iron mines which are paying is small compared to the number of mines upon which large sums of money have been spent. Here again, notwithstanding the fact that although the number of failures in iron mines has been far less than that of any other mineral, we find a class of people who rely rather upon their own ideas of what should be done upon the advice of experts who deal with the things that are. Such is the class who would, after losing money by their own careless speculations, decry any form of mining; who, in short impede the march of progress.

It has been said that in order to take an intelligent interest in the affairs of his country every man should study politics. How much more then should he not take an active interest in building up his country by studying its natural resources and assisting to develop them?

It must develop upon us as a duty, which we owe to our children, and our children's children, this laying of the foundation stones of the future, and this being the age of iron it would seem that in that direction the work we have set ourselves to perform.

One naturally asks "where am I to start and how?" We will consider the first part of the query carefully, being guided by past experience and backed up by statistics, for these are the testimonials exacted from us by nature before she will yield up her stores in trust for future generations. Taking the iron belts on this continent of America we find that they have their defined limits and their directions as truly as the arteries in the human body. For instance if we find the brachial artery near our arm pit and run across it again at our wrist we may safely conclude that it is the same artery, or lead as it would be termed in mining parlance. It is not our design to bewilder the reader or prospective investor with a list of iron mines paying high dividends, nor do we sketch out a geographical chart of all the iron districts and leads on the American continent, but the following examples will serve to show the well nigh infallibility of mining operations where carried out on the basis above illustrated. We refer to the world famed iron mines of the Mesabi range in Minnesota, U. S. A. Throughout the entire length of this range in recent years there have been many valuable claims taken up and today some of them net an enormous income to those who were far-sighted enough to invest in them. One particular case is that of a gentleman who not only has the sobriquet of "Iron King" of Duluth. About twelve years ago he purchased eighty acres of timber land in the iron belt above named for the sum of $300,000. After inspecting the timber he offered to sell his property for less than he had paid for it, but no one would buy it. Some two years after he discovered that the iron oxides exposed on his land were valuable, and he sold the right to take the iron off his eighty acres to the American Steel Corporation, charging them 25 cents per ton for all the ore they took. This has netted him $8,000,000.00. His income from this source alone is $750,000 per day. Almost due north some 1000 miles from this Mesabi range lies an immense deposit of iron oxide, the property of the Edmonton Coal and Iron Company of Edmonton. It is located near Edmonton in Northern Alberta not far from the Canadian Northern Railroad and close to the route of the Great Trunk Pacific, besides which it is within eight miles of the Saskatchewan River which is navigable, and is connected by wagon roads to Edmonton.

Amongst other experts, Mr. Wm. Blakeney, member of Institute of Mining Engineers, England, has reported on this valuable property. He says that in his opinion the company has in this case a "most valuable asset and easily and quickly realizable, as it is more than likely from the character and occurrence of the deposit that the springs come from a stratified ore body below which could be displaced by boring."

Alluding to a proposed expenditure of $10,000,000 he adds "Having had thirty years experience in locating and working various iron deposits, I have no hesitation in saying that this is available property and one which will justify the expenditure recommended."

The mineral deposits he finds by analysis consists of 45.2 per cent. of metallic iron from surface ore and as he further states, not only could it be used to produce an excellent paint oxide, for which a market could readily be found, but it could also be used in combination with other ores or smelting and iron and steel manufacture, similar to that so successfully smelted at the Radnor range, Quebec province for many years.

But it would then that of this valuable and immense property has created such a stir among mining circles in various parts, not only of this country but elsewhere.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquezone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquezone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquezone does kill germs. And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquezone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights. And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Liquezone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetative matter. Liquezone goes into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquezone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquezone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone attacks the germs, wherever they are, when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

Acts Like Oxygen.

Liquezone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables:

LOCAL

—Trains on time.

—Probs.—Fair weather.

—St. Valentine's day.

—The city council meet this evening.

—The Maccabees give a masquerade ball in Robertson's Hall this evening.

—The adjourned matinee of the Driving Club will be held on Friday at 1.30 p.m.

—A general meeting of the hockey club will be held at the rink tomorrow evening.

—The finals in the Edmonton vs. All Comers curling competition was played last night when Ibbotson's rink defeated Lauder's, 14 to 9.

—The Epworth League of the Methodist Church gave a very enjoyable skating party on the rink of the Alberta College last evening.

—Get your costume ready for the fancy dress carnival in the Thistle rink on Friday, Feb. 24th, under the auspices of the Willing Workers of All Saints' Church.

—A magic lantern service at the Salvation Army barracks entitled "Farmer Browns Awakening" will be given by Ensign Mercer tomorrow evening Feb 14th, at 8 p.m.

—Supreme Court was occupied yesterday in taking evidence in King vs. Lyons, charged with setting out poison which resulted in the destruction of a large number of cattle at Battle river. The case is being continued today.

—There was a fairly good attendance at the meeting in Garipey's Hall yesterday when a Merchants' Protective Association was formed, a large number of the local business men becoming members. C. B. Fittness was appointed secretary pro tem.

—The second annual show of the Alberta Stock Association will be held in Robertson's Hall Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Many exhibits will probably come on today and will be stored for the night in the vacant store under the hall. Judging takes place tomorrow afternoon.

—Plaintiff:—The chief item of business at the regular meeting of the town council last Tuesday evening was the preparation of the water-works by-law and its first reading. It was decided to ask the ratepayers to vote $104,000.00. The by-law is advertised in this issue of the Plaindealer.

—The Ladies Aid of the Public Hospital have secured the rink for Friday, Feb. 17th and will hold a burlesque hockey match and skating races. After 8.30 p.m. the ice will be reserved for skating. Band in attendance. Every one will be charged 25c. Proceeds in aid of the hospital fund.

—The Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church gave their monthly social in the basement of the church last evening. About 100 were present and with the excellent program rendered, games played and last but not least, delicious refreshments served, a very delightful evening was spent by all present. The program consisted of several musical selections: vocal and instrumental, well rendered readings, and a short address by Rev. McQueen.

—Regina Standard:—The last meeting of the Board of Trade was occupied with several discussions which very materially affect the welfare of the city. A resolution was passed, stating that the board was not in favor of any extra duty on lumber, and the question of a street mail delivery was taken up.

To the Canadian Pacific Railway company is probably reserved the honor of being the first steamship owners to install the Marconi wireless telegraph system upon vessels plying from Pacific coast ports. Some time this year Vancouver will be notified of the approach of the Empress a day or two before they are sighted off Victoria.

—Regina Standard:—Supt. Ross, of public works stated to a Standard man that a larger force of men were soon to be employed for the purpose of repairing the water pipes of the city, which are bursting from the intense cold. Different measures are to be adopted, it is stated in the laying of a new pipe next summer, as the expense of keeping same in repair during the winter has been no little item to the city.

—Strathcona Chronicle:—The annual meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the fire hall on Monday night a goodly number of members being present. After a few matters of public interest had been discussed the election of officers for the ensuing year took place and resulted as follows:—President, J. H. McDonald, unopposed; Vice-President, F. C. Jamieson, unopposed; Treasurer, A. G. Baslin, unopposed; Secretary, W. M. Hill, unopposed; Councillors, J. M. Douglas, O. Bush, A. McLean, J. McFarlane, Dr. Holton, R. Ritchie, W. H. Sheppard and W. J. Blain. The meeting then adjourned.

—The Free Press, Winnipeg has secured for exclusive publication, the final adventures of Sherlock Holmes. These consist of thirteen complete thrilling short detective stories by Sir A. C. Doyle. The first of the series commences in the issue of the Free Press of February 11th and is entitled "The Adventure of the Empty House." Thereafter one story will appear per week every Saturday until the series has been completed. In an advertisement in another column the Free Press makes a special subscription offer of the Saturday issue covering the thirteen weeks of the special story series.

—Strathcona Plaindealer:—The autonomy bill will describe the constituencies of the new provinces and two things will have to be considered in doing so, present population and prospective population. Owing to the character of the country in the northern half of the new province of Alberta, and the projected railways through it, the prospective population is much greater than for the southern half. The ranching country can never support so large a population as the mixed farming areas of the north, and the irrigation systems which are being extended through the ranching districts cannot supply water to the arid hills that are the cattle today. For these reasons constituencies in the north should be smaller and more numerous than those in the south, and on the principle of the greatest convenience to the greatest number the legislature will locate the permanent capital of Alberta in Strathcona, or possibly in Edmonton, which city wants it very badly.
